PRESENCE OF THE FILM SECTOR IN SIKKIM

- The State has its own brief history of cinema. It dates back to the Kingdom of Sikkim when Satyajit Ray, widely regarded as one of the greatest filmmakers had made a documentary titled “Sikkim” in 1971, showcasing the socio-cultural front of the Himalayan kingdom under the Monarchy. It can be said that his work on Sikkim laid the first foundation for a new breed of digital quest and aspiring filmmakers.
- Actors like Danny Denzongpa and Geetanjali Thapa have not only brought pride and fame to the state but have strengthened the bond with the film industry and become idols for others with similar passion and dreams.
- Over the years, Sikkim has served as a perfect backdrop for movies and filmmakers have used this to their advantage. Classic movies like the Dev Anand starrer, Jewel Thief and modern movies like Uff Yeh Mohabbat, Yaariyan, Qarib Qarib Single have all been shot around Sikkim’s picturesque valleys, towns and landscape.
